

Long Ridge Farm is pleased to present a workshop taught by

INDIA FLINT

In Search of the Blues

August 11 – 13 (3 days)

The colour blue is both magical and fascinating, whether coaxed into cloth as ice-flower dyes or derived from the brewing of plants containing indigotins. During this three day intensive we will be investigating the blues, using freshly gathered indigo and woad grown at Long Ridge Farm. We will apply colour directly to cloth as well as using simple fermentation techniques. As our samples dry, we'll stitch them into a memory cloth, while listening to the blues.
